FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Full Sail Student Ashlee Winters publishes a collection of thrillers and emotional stories title The Laughs, Thrills, and Cries.

NOW AVAILABLE FOR REVIEW

Clinton, New York - January 24th, 2021. Ashlee Winters announces her first publication of schoolwork collection of flash fiction stories The Laughs, Thrills, and Cries. The e-book can be bought at www.Smashworks.com for 100.00.

The collection begins with "The Women Gallery" following Mr. Luin on a heist to steal painting of women to satisfy his strange fascination of them. Mr. Luin chases after the paintings he claims are damsels in distress.

The second short story "The Man Through the Window" follows a kidnapper watching his prey, Silvia. Silvia wishes for escape, but her fear keeps her imprisoned while the kidnapper finds the perfect plan for her release.

The third story "The Stuffed Bear" follows Elizabeth during her undercover mission to babysit a suspected serial killer's child. She faces her consequences of thinking the task would be easy.

The fourth story "From What's Leftover" follows Levi and his younger brother Auggie as they are stuck in post-apocalyptic times in a motel surrounded by walking death. Their lack of a food supply pushes them close to the start of starvation.

The final story "Thorns" follows Cecelia a younger girl and her search for adventure beyond her snow-covered house. However, leaving means disobeying her mother's rules of going out alone at night.

Smashwords.com is the world's largest publisher of indie e-books. They allow authors to publish and distribute e-books to the industry's major retailers, as well as provide e-books in a wide variety of digital formats. Smashwords.com is accepting of any written work by authors and the genres they fall under. With consistent self-advertising and Smashwords.com online publishing and distributing authors works are bound to be seen.

Ashlee Winters is a full-time student and an aspiring novelist. Her writing mixes romance and fantasy as she gets inspiration from her maladaptive dreams and peculiar adventures. Ashlee is currently attending Full Sail University earning her Bachelor of Fine Arts and creative writing for entertainment. She has experience reviewing stories for young authors under a profile on Wattpad. Although many think you must walk to go on adventure, she believes words can take you further.
